

Toryanik L., Karasyova H. Tsurikova L. Creative teaching and learning English online and off-line/L.Toryanik , H.Karasyova , L.Tsurikova: зб.матер. міжн. наук.- практ. конф. “Досягнення вищої освіти-2013”, 17.11.-25.11. 2013 р. : тези доп. – Софія, 2013. – Т.25. - С. 92-94.

Creative Teaching & Learning English online and off-line.

Lyudmila Toryanik, Helen Karasyova,

National University of Pharmacy (Ukraine),

Larisa Tsurikova, Belgorod State University (Russia)

Abstract: At present the available online & off-line teaching and learning courses in English are widely used at the academic lessons which gives students great possibilities in creative their thinking skills while teaching students English. Online and off-line English is the best way to teach students to comprehend and communicate professional English. This article is based on the study of a number of works done on using online and off-line technologies for language learning.

Keywords: online teaching, off-line learning, creative learning, creative skills, technology, communicate, comprehend.

I. Introduction. The actuality of the article is that the main idea of the education is based on implementary new media to develop students creative abilities and skills, introducing more flexible education and preparing students for real life.

In the methodological literature there are many works devoted to the online methods of teaching English, such as Bakia M., Davis V., Larsen-Freeman D., Means B., Murphy R., Toyama Y., and Jonesb K. and others.

II. Formulation of the problem. The task of the article is to reveal the ways of using online and off-line methods of teaching English.

III. Results. The analysis of the investigation showed that nowadays online methods are considered to be one of the most effective and popular methods of teaching foreign languages in the world. They allow to develop spoken English which is the bases of communication and mutual understanding people in all spheres of our life.

The analysis of the methodological resources [1, 2, 3, 4] showed that online lessons allow students to break the language barrier while talking with the teachers, the carriers of the native language from the USA, Canada and Britain. There are language online clubs which can be visited by any person. The topics of the online lessons in such clubs are talkative phrases and expressions.

According to the analysis of the articles devoted to the Skype online training [3,4,6] we can surely say that another effective method of using online lessons is grammatical learning new words. We can find from 300 to 600 Grammar tests for different levels of grammar for conducting online English lessons in different educational organizations, which also provide their students with watching video materials and reading books in the original language with vocabulary and exercises.

Students who are using English online and off-line lessons conducted in different countries recognize many benefits of this methodology. First, it emphasizes the role of the training of hearing. Analysing unknown words and sentences, learners will remember the audio link between words and whole phrases. Second, when they print a proposal at the hearing, they caught the common meaning of the phrase, and then select the correct grammatical construction and, finally, keep in their mind how the given words are written correctly. Third, the learners remember the whole semantic clichés in the context of their possible use.[1,5,6]

As for the using online technologies in the National University of Pharmacy and Belgorod State University when teaching English we can absolutely underline that English online and off-line courses are the best way to improve your lexical vocabulary, grammar knowledge and skills to listen and understand native English. They are based on the introduction of new words, grammar constructions, watching video films, episodes, where students can hear the given and explained vocabulary and the given grammar constructions in the everyday English speech.

After watching video material, the students have a wonderful opportunity to do self-assessment work doing lexical and grammar exercises and check themselves using keys after the tasks. The lessons are conducted during the break and last about 30 minutes every day. The teaching staff of the Universities and students can have a good practice every day.

Online English teaching course in our Universities gives a strong bases and practice as for developing linguistic intuition. After watching our online lessons learners needn't tutorials. They can continue to enrich their knowledge of the English language reading English books, listening to English audio or watching English movies.

IV. Conclusions. So, as we see, using online and off-line lessons of teaching English is an effective method of language learning. This method of teaching is actual nowadays. It will play a key role in training and developing individual creative abilities and potential of the students in the nearest future.

References:

1. Davis V.A. Using Skype in the classroom (or just learning how to use it!) 2006, August, from http:// coolcatteacher.blogspot.com/2006/10/using-skype-in-classroom-or-just.html.
2. Larsen-Freeman, D. (2000). Techniques and Principles in Language Teaching (2nd ed.). Oxford: Oxford University Press.
3. Means B., Toyama Y., Murphy R., Bakia M., and Jones K., 2010. "Evaluation of evidence-based practices in online learning: A meta-analysis and review of online learning studies," Washington, D.C.: U.S. Department of Education,
4. Rodgers, T. S. (2001). Language Teaching Methodology (ERIC Issue Paper). Washington, DC: ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics.
5. Summers J.J., Waigandt A., and Whittaker T.A., 2005. "A comparison of student achievement and satisfaction in an online versus a traditional face-to–face statistics class,”Innovative Higher Education, volume 29, number 3, pp. 233–250.

6. Craft, A. (2001) Analysis of Research and Literature on Creativity in Education.http: / www.ncaction.org.uk / creativity/resources.htm.